PANEL: Solving the Wicked Problems of the West

Lee Gregory | Chief Executive, Nepean Blue Mountains Local Health District

Graeme Loy | Chief Executive, Western Sydney Local Health District

Sonia Marshall | Acting Chief Executive, South Western Sydney Local Health District

Provocateur: Adam Leto | Chief Executive Officer, Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue

Topics to be explored:

- When it comes to health services, standards and staffing, are we on track? What are the challenges facing Greater Western Sydney?
- Continued upskilling and education of the Australian workforce is an ongoing issue; how can we apply this to the health sector?
- What are the new technologies and models of care that are starting to emerge, and how can GWS be at the forefront of world leading innovation?
- Health is as significant but under-measured aspect of productivity.
- What are the risks to the GWS economy if the current health metrics aren't improved, and where can immediate improvements be made?

SOLVING THE WICKED PROBLEMS OF THE WEST - PART TWO: Some Quick Wins!

Lauren Nicholls | Head of Policy & Analysis, Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue

Dr Zoe Terpening | Director Strategy & Precincts, UNSW Sydney

MORNING TEA

PANEL: Heat as a Health Threat in Greater Western Sydney

Paul Higham | Head of Western Sydney Development, Sydney Water

Dr Kim Loo | Sydney GP and NSW Chair, Doctors for the Environment Australia

Provocateur: Prof. Louise Hickman | Pro Vice Chancellor – Health, University of Wollongong

Topics to be explored:

- Penrith, not long ago was the hottest place on the planet at 48.9 degrees. Heat is one of Greater Western Sydney's lesser known killers, and it's an issue that has compounding effects on the community and is becoming more serious over time.
- How can we help safeguard communities from the effects of extreme heat? What role does access to recreational water and heat refuges play?
- Which groups are most vulnerable to extreme heat? Are these groups hearing about the impact of heat on health?
- How do extreme heat events impact our local health systems?
- What needs to be done to better support vulnerable communities this summer?

PANEL: Unlocking the Care Economy

Tracey Burton | Chief Executive Officer, Uniting

Dr Keith McDonald | Chief Executive Officer, South Western Sydney PHN

Grainne O'Loughlin | Chief Executive Officer, Karitane

Provocateur: Dr Andrew Montague | General Manager – Health & Strategic Delivery Office, HammondCare

Topics to be explored:

- Is the economic contribution of the sector overlooked and under valued? What are the policies and investments needed to meet future demand, deliver jobs and drive industry growth?
- What is the future of the care economy in GWS?
- Where can the different sectors of the care economy work together to achieve greater efficiencies and higher-quality services?
- How can the care sector work collaboratively cross-sector to achieve preventative health and wellbeing outcomes?

NETWORKING LUNCH
